

56 years
occupied by China

FREE TIBET NOW!

In the UK, we live in a democratic society with freedom of expression, freedom to follow our beliefs, freedom to follow our traditions ... the Tibetan people in Tibet are denied these basic human rights. On 10th March 1959, Tibetan people in Lhasa rose up against China's occupation of Tibet. In the immediate aftermath thousands of innocent Tibetan men, women and children either disappeared or were killed. Despite these horrific consequences, in the intervening 47 years the Dalai Lama and the Tibetan Government in Exile have adhered to and sustained a unique campaign advocating non-violent means to find justice for Tibet and its people.

Whilst the government continues its war on terror, show your support for Tibet and demonstrate your support for campaigning by peaceful means, join the

FREEDOM MARCH
